A Love Poem of Barry Cornwall. [In Harper's for March are published the following lines (never before printed) addressed by "Barry Cornwall" to the lady who afterward became his wife :]

Once more among those rich and golden strings Wauder with thy warm arm, dear girl, so pale; And when at last from thy sweet discord springs. The aerial music, like the dreams which veil Earth's shadows with diviner thoughts and things O, let the passions and the time prevail, And bid thy spirit through the mazes run; For music is like love, and must be won!

O, wake the rich chords with thy delicate flugers!
O, loose the enchanted music from nute sleep!
Methinks the fine phantasma near thee lingers.
Yet will not come, unless tones strong and deep
Coupel him. Ah! methinks (as love avengers
Requite upon the beads of those who weep
The sorrows which they gave) the sullen thing
Deserts thee, as thou lef'st the vanquished string. O, wake the rich chords with thy delicate flugers!

No, no; it comes; sweeter than death or life,
Sweeter than hope or joy (beneath the moon),
Sweeter than all is that harmonious strife.
From whose embrace is born a perfect tune
Where every passionate note with thought is rife.
Come, then; with golden speech enchant us soon
Soon as thou will—with airs of hope, with fears,
The rage of passion, or the strength of tears!

A "FIGARO" SCANDAL.-Paris, February 23.-The Figaro names a distinguished prima donna whom it charges with having cloped from St. Petersburgh with the tenor Nicolini. It states further that the Marquis of Caux followed them, and that judicial proceedings for a separation have been commenced.

[A morning telegram dated at Paris yesterday was to the following effect : Le Moniteur says it is informed by a friend of the lady that Adelina Patti has applied for a judicial separation from the Marquis of Caux, and is on the way to Paris to appear with the Marquis, on February 27th, before the President of the Tribunal of the Seine.]

Felo de Sea-It is perhaps as well for coroners' bashaws not to lengthen their verdicts by disquisitions on the moral capacities of the bodies on whom they sit. The good and honest twelve who "found drowned" a fellow-citizen of indifferent repute for intelligence might have omitted the rider that " he never showed any penetration till he had made a hole in the water.'

A new dance has been introduced into Paris. It is called "The Boston." Though not described it is presumable that it is one step forward and hitch eye-glass, two steps back and repeat, nose up, toes in, all hands around, and waltz down stairs to a lunch of cold beans .- Chicago Journal. Advocate.

A Stratford old lady who had never been on the cars before recently rode by rail to New Haven. On her return, being asked what she thought of it, she exclaimed:

"Why, 'taint nothing at all! It's the most m-o-n-o-t-o-n-o-u-s thing! Why, I believe coming back they went through the identical places they did when they went down"

A Hoboken clergyman recently preached on "Gospel Gunnery." He took his text from the "c-pistols."—Boston Post. A singular Miniester, that. But we suppose his aim is good.

In parsuance of the power given us by a certain paper duly executed and dated the 3d day of January, 1877, from the heirs of Caroline Philips, deceased, we shall proceed to sell, upon the premises, at public anction, on MONDAY the 26th day of February, 1877, at 12 o'clock M. that TRULY DESIRABLY-LOCATED AND IM-PROVED PROPERTY situated as described above, now occupied a rental of about $2.000 per year. This property is located in an improving and eligible part of Main street, and offers for an investment a most advantageous opportunity to capitalists and others, as it is growing steadily and regularly in value, and will at all times command fair rents and prompt tenants. Each building has a good front on Main street, and extends back a good depth. A plat of the property will be exhibited at sale, showing dimensions of each lot.

The TERMS, which will be attractive and liberal,
